Landfill Waste Fact Sheet

NO UNTREATED WASTE TO LANDFILL

what do I need to do for my business?

From October 30th 2007 landfills no longer accept untreated waste.

You should review how your business manages its waste and speak to Mytum & Selby about this requirement.

helping you understand these regulations

- Find out if your waste is sent to landfill. If it isn't, then these new rules should not affect your business.
 - If your waste is not currently treated, Mytum & Selby can help you decide how to meet the new requirement.
 - If your waste is sent to landfill, find out how else you could manage your waste. The way we manage waste in our country is changing and in many cases there are other more environmentally-friendly options available for example, recycling.
 - If you decide to keep sending your waste to landfill, find out if it is treated first. Its your responsibility to make sure it is being treated.
- Why must I do this?
The requirement to treat waste is part of a package of measures, applied across the EU by the Landfill Directive.
- The rules are designed to:
- Increase waste recycling and recovery
 - Reduce potentially polluting emissions from landfills.
 - Create environmental awareness

How can I make sure my waste is treated?

After 30 October 2007, your waste must be treated before being landfilled, contact Mytum & Selby to find out the best solution for you.

- Try to collect your non hazardous waste as individual waste streams. You can then send one or more of these separated waste streams to Mytum & Selby for recycling, for example your cardboard.

This counts as treatment. If you already do this, then there is no need to do more.

Mytum & Selby are able to help you with source segregation and provide full training and compliance packages for your site plus markets for your product.

- Mytum & Selby have always treated waste before Landfill, our Transfer Station enables us to segregate and pre sort all materials and produce a recycled product. If you are a customer of Mytum and Selby all you need to do is request our recycling confirmation certificate and let us do the rest.

- You already have a 'Duty of Care' to ensure that you describe your waste properly and only give it to an authorised person. You should also take all reasonable steps to ensure that it is disposed of at an authorised facility. From 30 October 2007, when you transfer waste to someone else, you should tell them whether the waste has been treated or not.

Mytum & Selby are able to provide complete compliance and keep you up to date with changing legislation. We are able to provide all kinds of treatment for all types of waste including liquids and Hazardous materials.

Remember it is your responsibility to make sure your waste is treated before landfill and that your waste carrier has all correct licensing and facilities to deal with your waste.
